My Facebook and Pinterest pages are relatively new. I started with my WordPress blog and late last year I started my IG page – which has had amazing growth and I can assure you, my engagement is genuine and mutual!

Aside from my blogging, photography and travel I am a full-time worker. I endeavor to respond to you as soon as possible and I apologise for any delay there may be in my reply.

Hello!

My photography, writing and travel has always been my creative outlet on my days away from the office.

As my brand continues to expand, I am passionate about my blog posts being fun, informative and factually correct.

When it comes to other brands and/or products I aim to understand you and your business as well as your industry prior to posting/blogging about you. I believe that this keeps the integrity of both your brand and my image.

I am available for photography, styling, post-editing and provision of printed products. If you have any products you wish me to write about, I ask that you provide me with a sample as well as adequate time to test and get to know the product. As I am sure you can appreciate I need to believe in the product before sharing it with my followers.

If I am creating a blog post, either for myself or in conjunction with another blogger or business, I am for a quality 500-word post which I will share on my WordPress blog, Pinterest page & Google+ page. I will work with you to ensure that the scheduling of these posts are best in-line with the target audience/location time.

My initial blog-post fee is $200 and additional services can be provided at request and at extra cost
